NOTICE to PURCHASERS of CAEN

Translation of a CERTIFICATE from the Mayor of Allennagne, Department of Calvados, Normandy, relative to the property of the Caen stone quarries.—
"I, the Mayor of Allennagne, Department of Calvados, undersigned, do hereby certify to all who are interested in it, that it is an error and gross misstatement, as certain persons have reported, that the quarries of Allennagne belong to, and are leased from, the Government of France, and the local authorities of the Department of Calvados. Neither, the one or the other have any right or interest whatever in the said land or quarries."

I hereby further certify, that the greater part of these quarries are worked by Messrs. Luard and Company, who are the principal proprietors, and Messrs. Jobert, who is also a proprietor, the remainder are worked by smaller quarrymen of the neighbourhood, who sell their produce to certain dealers for exportation to England as they require.

Executed at Allennagne, this 26th May, 1849.

Translation attested by F. HARVEY, Esq., C.E., 20, Symonds Inn, Chancery-lane.
N.B. The French manuscript may be seen by permission in writing at the office of Messrs. LARD, BEDDAN and Co. Copies supplied of this upon application.

CAEN and AUBIGNY STONE.—

LUARD, HERDMAN, and Co. beg respectfully to recommend purchasers of Caen stone to require a guarantee of those who profess to be "quarry proprietors" and importers, that they are selling only such Caen stone as is suitable for EXTENSIVE WORKS, this being the only way by which architects and builders can be safe from the recurrence of certain failures, by its indeterminate use. It is now generally known that the bottom beds in the Caen quarries, as well as in the Portland, are only fit for small purposes.

L. R. and Co. continue their efforts to maintain the character of their Caen stone, by careful selection, and can afford to hold out without alarm the absurd, false, and futile assertions of weak-minded competitors.

L. R. and Co. have a large unmined stock of Caen and Aubigny stone at their general depot at Caen Wharf, Rotherhithe, Vauxhall bridge, Millbank, Battle-bridge, Paddington, and Kensington Road.

Shipments direct from the quarries in any port in the United Kingdom.—Offices, 16, South-west-square, Borough, and 179, Rotherhithe-street.

N.B.—The statements put forth by other proprietors of Caen stone, in the name of W. T., with all respect, to observe that he cannot think of resting his claims on the order of a superior quality of stone, on the certificates of magistrates or other public officers of Normandy, who however distinguished by character and station, can be no evidence on such matters. As the proprietor of Caen Stone of the first quality, he trusts to the sound judgment and experience of those English architects, builders, &c., who may honour him with their preference for every guarantee and subsequent recommendation.

CAEN STONE.

27, Millbank-street, 19th July, 1849.

MESSRS. W. and J. FREEMAN consider it to be a duty they owe to their respected connections and themselves, to request a perusal of the following documents.

Translated from the French Language by Mr. A. DE PINNA, of Bartholomew-lane, Royal Exchange, London, Notary Public and Conveyancer, Foreign and English; Official Translator to Her Majesty's High Court of Admiralty of England, &c. &c. &c.

"We, the Maire of the Commune of Allennagne, Canton of Caen, Department of the Calvados,—

"Did, on the 26th May last, deliver to Messrs. LARD, BEDDAN, and Co. a certificate attesting that the idea had never been entertained on the part of the French Government, to commit any infringement on the right of ownership in the quarries opened in my said commune."

"It would appear that, from the said certificate, inserted from time to time in the London Journal, "The Builder," erroneous inferences have been drawn, tending to establish the belief that M. JOBERT, Senior, is only a secondary proprietor of quarries, while Messrs. LARD, BEDDAN, and Co. are the principal proprietors of the quarries of Allennagne, and the only parties capable of executing the large orders for Caen Stone."

"It behoves me, therefore, to rectify whatever there is contrary to truth in such like assertions; wherefore, I declare unto all whom it may concern, that M. JOBERT, Senior, was the originator of the business of quarrying Allennagne Stone, the quarries whereof he has worked, without any interruption, ever since the year 1830."

"That he is the principal owner of the Allennagne Quarries, and that he is in a situation to meet the largest demands for supplies that can be addressed to him."

"I do further certify, that it comes within my knowledge that the finest stones raised by M. JOBERT, Senior, are conveyed, in England, to his correspondents, Messrs. W. and J. FREEMAN, of London."

"Done and delivered at Allennagne, to serve as of right, the 2nd July, 1849."

Caen, 4th July, 1849.

The Engineer-in-Chief of the Department of the Calvados certifies that M. JOBERT, Senior, is the owner of numerous quarries, in work, in the Commune of Allennagne, near Caen, and that he is in a position to furnish Caen Stone, of the best quality, for exportation or for works within the country.

He further certifies, that M. JOBERT occupies an extensive yard on the bank of Orne, in the port of Caen, in front of which he has been authorised to place three powerful cranes, by means whereof he can have three vessels loading at one time, and ship blocks of stone of the most considerable volume and dimensions.

Public Works.

"I, the undersigned, Architect of the Public Works of the 'Maison Centrale de Detention' of Neaulieu, and of those of the town of Caen, do certify—

"That M. JOBERT, Senior, is the owner of seven quarries at Allennagne, near Caen, which are being worked in full activity, and which are opened in the region producing the best quality of stone."

"That M. JOBERT is established and provided with all necessities, on such a footing as to be enabled to meet the most important orders for supplies that can be required of him."

"That, in the different works he has executed under my orders, he has always shown the greatest activity, and has conducted them with ability, and that the stones he has furnished have always been of the first quality. It is, therefore, a duty as well as a pleasure on my part, to certify that I consider him capable of perfectly executing every species of building, as also any supplies of materials."
